

THANK THE FEMINISTS!

If You're female and ...

You can vote, thank the feminists.

You get paid the same wages as men doing the same job thank the feminists.

You went to college or university instead of being expected to leave after high school so your brothers could go or 'You'll just get married anyway' thank the feminists.

You can apply for any job, not just 'women's work', thank the feminists.

You can get, or give, birth control information without going to jail, thank the feminists.

Your doctor lawyer magistrate/judge car mechanic, bank manager, Member of Parliament or governor is a woman, thank the feminists.

You can take your child/children to childcare or crèche when you have to go to work, or the doctor, or shopping, thank the feminists.

Your boss or others at work or in public institutions aren't allowed to pressure you for sex or molest or harass you, thank the feminists.

If you get raped then your trial isn't about your clothes or your previous relationships, thank the feminists.

If your child is abused or molested or stalked, it is a crime and you can get police and community services intervention, thank the feminists.

You start a small business and you can get a loan using only your name and credit history, thank the feminists.

If you are on trial and you are allowed to testify on your own defense, thank the feminists.

You have a right to your salary even if you are married or have a male relative, thank the feminists.

You get parental rights to your children following separation or divorce, thank the feminists.

You get a voice in the raising and care of your children instead of them being completely controlled by the husband / father, thank the feminists.

Your partner beats you - it is unlawful – and the police can charge your partner instead of lecturing you on how you should behave, thank the feminists.

You are granted a degree after attending a university or college instead of a mere certificate, thank the feminists.

You can breastfeed your baby in a public space and not be arrested, thank the feminists.

You have the right to refuse sex with your partner, thank the feminists.

Your partner is abusive or violent or threatens violence to you and / or your children you can seek a restraining order through a court and seek shelter in a women's refuge, thank the feminists.

You have the right to keep your medical records confidential from the men or others in your family, thank the feminists.

You play an organized sport, thank the feminists.

You can wear slacks/jeans without being excommunicated from your church or run out of town, thank the feminists.

You have the right to read the books, webpages, magazines etc you want, thank the feminists.

You can testify in court about crimes or wrongs your husband/ partner has committed, thank the feminists.

You can choose to be a mother or not a mother in your own time and not at the dictate of a husband or partner, thank the feminists.

You can look forward to a lifespan of 80+ years instead of dying in your 20's or 30's from childbirth, thank the feminists.

You can see yourself as a full, adult human being instead of being seen as a minor who needs to be controlled by a man, thank the feminists.

Author Unknown

